I have the honour to be

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

H. F. G. LETSON,

Secretary to the Governor General.

The Honourable
The Speaker of the Senate,
Ottawa.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

After a while, His Excellency the Governor General having come, and being seated on the Throne,—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that,—

It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The House of Commons being come,

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to open the Session by a Gracious Speech to both Houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

Since you met in Special Session in the autumn of last year, there has been a further deterioration in the international situation. The intervention of Chinese forces in active opposition to the United Nations forces in Korea has increased the danger of a general conflagration.

So far the efforts to achieve a peaceful settlement in the Far East have not succeeded. While aggression cannot be condoned and will continue to be resisted, it is the view of my Ministers that the door to negotiation at any time a cessation of hostilities in Korea can be arranged must be kept open.

The increased menace in the Far East reinforces the mounting evidence that Communist imperialism is determined to dominate the world by force or the fear of force, and that the only hope of maintaining peace with freedom lies in the rapid increase of the combined strength of the free nations. It is equally important that the free nations should make it abundantly clear that they have no aggressive designs and that they are resolved to aid in constructive endeavours to improve the standards of human welfare in under-developed countries.

My Ministers have endeavoured to uphold these international objectives in the deliberations of the United Nations, at the recent meeting of the Prime Ministers of the Commonwealth countries, and in our diplomatic relations with all nations and governments.

Units of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force have shared from the outset in the United Nations action in Korea. One battalion of the Canadian Army Special Force is now in Korea, and the rest of the force is at Fort Lewis, Washington, where it is available for service in Korea or for other employment in discharge of our international obligations.

Progress has been made in the organization of an integrated force in Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Supreme Commander, General Eisenhower, has recently visited Canada to consult with the Government and the Chiefs of Staff. You will be asked early in the session to authorize Canadian participation in this integrated force as part of our programme for national defence and security. You will also be asked to approve substantially increased expenditures for defence.

The urgent need of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project in relation to the security of this continent is becoming increasingly apparent. It is the view of my Ministers that the Canadian authorities should be kept in a position to co-operate promptly in undertaking construction of the project once affirmative action has been taken by the appropriate United States authorities.

Your approval will be sought for an appropriate Canadian participation in the Colombo plan and in technical assistance to under-developed areas.

The policies of the government are designed to prevent war, but the dangers of the international situation and the magnitude of the defence effort required as a deterrent have, in the opinion of my Ministers, created an emergency situation. You will accordingly be asked to approve legislation vesting in the Governor in Council additional powers to ensure adequate defence preparations to meet the present emergency and to prevent economic dislocation resulting from defence preparations.

You will also be asked to approve a Bill to establish a Department of Defence Production to act as a procurement agency for the defence forces of Canada and also for such defence requirements of our allies as may be met from Canadian production.

Amendments to legislation relating to the armed forces will also be submitted for your approval.

Legislation will be submitted respecting the application of the benefits of the Veterans Charter to members of the Special Force. Amendments will be introduced to legislation concerning pensions for veterans and their dependents to relieve difficulties being experienced by certain groups of pensioners provided for thereunder.

Appropriate amendments to the Canadian Citizenship Act will be introduced to prevent the retention of Canadian citizenship by persons who have renounced their allegiance or shown by their conduct that they are not loyal to Canada.

The high level of employment and production within our country give our people increased capacity to meet the demands of national and international security.

The spirit of unity so happily reflected in the conferences between the Federal and Provincial Governments is further evidence of our ability to make an effective national response to the emergency.

Proposals were laid before the provincial governments for new tax agreements and for a contributory old age pensions programme along the lines recommended by the Joint Committee at the last regular session.

The provincial governments are at present giving consideration to these proposals and to proposals for constitutional amendments which may require to be submitted to you before the close of the present session.

You will be asked to consider measures respecting federal grants to municipalities in lieu of taxation of Crown property, the abolition of the requirement of the fiat in the case of Petitions of Right, and the bequests of Laurier House and Kingsmere.

You will also be asked to consider a complete revision of the Indian Act and the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act.

Other measures to be introduced will include amendments to the Immigration Act, the Post Office Act, the Central Mortgage and Housing Act, the Gold Mining Assistance Act and the Customs Act.

It is anticipated that the reports of the Royal Commissions on Transportation and on National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences will become available during the course of the session.

Members of the House of Commons:

You will be asked to make provision for national defence and the meeting of our obligations under the United Nations Charter and the North Atlantic Treaty, as well as for all essential services.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

May Divine Providence bless your deliberations and give to our people the fortitude and patience to sustain the trials of these troubled times.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

The Honourable Senator Crerar from the Standing Committee on Finance, to whom was referred the Estimates laid before Parliament for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1952, presented the following Report.

THURSDAY, 21st June, 1951.

The Standing Committee on Finance to whom was referred the Estimates laid before Parliament for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1952, have in obedience to the order of reference of March 14, 1951, examined the said Estimates and now beg leave to report as follows:—

The Main Estimates for Government expenditures in the present fiscal year that began April 1 were given to the House of Commons on March 12 and to the Senate a day or two later. On March 14 the Senate adopted the following Resolution:

ORDER OF REFERENCE

That the Standing Committee on Finance be authorized to examine the expenditures proposed by the Estimates laid before Parliament for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1952, in advance of the Bills based on the said Estimates reaching the Senate: That it be empowered to send for records of revenues from taxation collected by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments in Canada, and records of expenditures by such governments, showing sources of income and expenditures of same under appropriate headings, together with estimates of gross national production, net national income and movement of the cost-of-living index, and their relation to such total expenditures, for the year 1939 and for the latest year for which the information is available, and such other matters as may be pertinent to the examination of the Estimates, and to report upon the same.

That the said Committee be empowered to send for persons, papers and records.

Prior to the Easter adjournment steps had been taken to secure from the appropriate Government Departments certain statistical data which were available to your Committee when it resumed its work at the beginning of May. An examination of these statistical data was decided upon, to ascertain as far as possible what effect government spending at all levels of government had on the rising cost-of-living, or in other words on the inflationary pressure that produced these rising costs.

With this end in view the Committee examined the totals of proposed Federal Government expenditures for the current year and noted the comparison of these expenditures with the fiscal year ending March 31, 1939, which was taken as a base year. The expenditures in the fiscal years ending 1950 and 1951 were also compared with the expenditures proposed for the fiscal year ending 1952, shown in the Estimates under consideration.

The data covering this are shown in Exhibit 1 appended to this report. This Exhibit is a summary of annual estimates by standard objects of expenditures and special categories:

- (a) The expenditures brought about through defence preparations are shown under the heading of "National Defence and Defence Production".
- (b) For Departments other than National Defence and Defence Production, which can be said to be the ordinary civilian expenses of Government.
- (c) A combination of these under the heading of "Totals for all Departments".

Explanatory notes of each of these items of expenditure are appended to Exhibit 1. The increases in practically all Departments of our Federal Government, even measured in 1939 dollars, are very significant. They should be a matter for concern and should be clearly studied in relation to the problem of taxation and the increasing burden on our economy. An apparatus of Government whose costs increase more rapidly than the increase in population and the production of new wealth, can lead to serious dangers to the state as a whole.

Exhibit 2 shows the combined revenues and expenditures for all Governments in Canada, Federal, Provincial and Municipal, for the years 1939, again taken as a base year, and for 1948 and 1949. There is included also a similar preliminary estimate for 1950. It is important to point out here that the statement of revenue does not include inter-governmental transfers. For example, the Federal Government pays statutory subsidies to the Provinces and substantial sums under the fiscal agreements with the provinces who rented their right to collect income and corporation taxes to the Federal authority.

Your Committee desires to draw special attention to this statement, Exhibit 2. It indicates the sources from which revenues are secured by each of the levels of Government and also the purposes for which the revenue thus secured is expended. For illustration, it indicates the cost of servicing the overall public debt of Canada, which increased from approximately $264 million in 1939 to over $492 million in 1949, and is now well over $500 million. Almost all of this increase was due to the expenditures incurred in the second world war. It also indicates the great increase in social service expenditures over the same period in the country's progress to the ideal of the welfare state. Under this heading the increase, exclusive of soldiers pensions and care, was from approximately $208 million to over $800 million in 1949. This type of expenditure continues to increase.

Exhibit 3 is a statement of national income and gross national product in each year from 1939 to 1950, with a few explanatory notes. It is important here to draw a distinction between gross national product and net national income. Gross national product is the gross income of all the people of Canada from all sources, which can be compared to the gross income of a business corporation or a farmer or a labouring man. To arrive at the net national income certain deductions must be made from the gross product. In the course of a year machinery employed has to be depreciated in value because it may become out of date, or because ordinary wear and tear makes it less valuable at the end of the year than at the beginning of the year. The same thing is true of houses and automobiles. When all of these and similar charges are put together they are deducted from the gross product and the result may be described as the net national income. From this total of national income of all the people in Canada their total living expenses have to be deducted and since Canadians enjoy a high standard of living this amount is the major item. In the second place, from the national income of all the people in Canada there has to be deducted the amount they pay in taxes to their various governments. Broadly speaking, what is left is the volume of savings, from which expansion and further development takes place, which may be invested in life insurance policies or annuities or retained by individual Canadians as a provision against a rainy day. It is a matter for concern that in the past few years personal savings have shown a rather marked tendency to decline in volume. In his recent budget speech the Finance Minister drew attention to the importance of this matter of personal savings in the following words.

"It is to the interest of every Canadian to make the maximum effort to save, or to increase the level of his saving, as a direct contribution to the avoidance of inflation and the successful prosecution of the defence program. The money saved can be used to buy Canada savings bonds, or to pay off the mortgage on his house or farm more rapidly, or to speed up the repayment of other debts, or to increase his savings in any other form that suits his individual circumstances. The important thing is to achieve an increase in aggregate saving up to a level at least equal to the new capital investment which we shall have to make this year."

Your Committee considered it of first importance that individual Canadians as far as possible get a clear understanding of what this means. If individual Canadians spend their substance foolishly or unwisely, if they are lazy and thriftless, without any doubt they create problems for themselves and for their governments. If governments, in response to public pressures, spend money foolishly or unnecessarily, they put heavier burdens on taxpayers and create political discontent and unrest. If political parties try to rival each other, in promises to the electorate, seeking in this way to gain political support, they are doing a real disservice to our country. The easy road is rarely a wise or prudent one to follow. Scarcely a week passes without some group of people, or some organization, pressing upon some government, somewhere in Canada, some project for spending more public money. The result of this is that we have reached a stage in practically all levels of Government in Canada where those in authority are seeking some new tax, hidden or unhidden, through which they can meet the demands made upon them. This course, if persisted in, is fatal to our well being as a people.

As a result of much loose talking and superficial thinking, the notion has grown alarmingly in the minds of a great many people that governments get their money in some mysterious fashion; that part of the responsibility of governments is to solve the problems of communities and individuals which these communities and individuals should solve for themselves. In this way individual self-reliance and initiative is undermined. The wilderness which a few hundred years ago was the Canada we know today was not developed in this way.

In the judgment of your Committee the steady growth that has been apparent now for quite a number of years, of dependence upon the state, can lead to only one of two results: Either in a steady increase in the power of the state over the right of the citizens, or the breakdown of democratic representative government as we have understood it and practised it in the past. The lessons of history in this respect are clear for all to read.

In Exhibit 4 is given a table of the number of Civil Service employees of the Government of Canada, again taking 1939 as a base year and giving the numbers for the years 1948-49-50-51. A cool examination of this table will convey an idea of the growth in government services. It was of course inevitable during the war years that there would be great expansion in the number of government servants, but one could have hoped that in the years following the war, and especially five years after the war was over, that the number would have diminished. Instead of this there has been a steady expansion. Your Committee had not the data available of the trends in this respect at other levels of government of Canada, that is provincial and municipal, but it believes that these other levels of government would show quite substantial increases also.

Exhibit 5 shows the movement of the cost-of-living index. This index has shown an alarming increase since the end of World War 2. It is the visual evidence of inflationary processes that are working in the Canadian economy. This condition is not alone the experience of Canada. It is a problem that is met with today in every democratic country in the world. The cause of this inflation can be stated briefly as too much spending against too few goods. There is no doubt that the methods necessary in financing World War 2 created tremendous inflationary pressures. This has been the experience of all wars of any magnitude; but because World War 2 was world wide in the incidence of the struggle, these pressures were generated on a scale never before experienced; and the reason is simple. War is a terribly destructive thing in its effect on any economy. It creates tremendous expansion of credit and money and democratic peoples have not yet learned the lesson of the great dangers inherent in this, and lack the self-discipline necessary to get back again on to solid ground. Moreover, it must be said that the financial policies followed by governments since the end of the war were not always wisely directed to bring this lurking menace under effective control.

During the war all economic activities rightly were directed to winning the war; but this process continued over four years created an immense void throughout the world of consumer goods of all kinds. There was superimposed upon this, greatly expanded social welfare expenditures. In other words, payments by governments out of their treasuries for social welfare budgets of one kind and another. Your Committee is not discussing here the necessity or otherwise of these expenditures; but it ventures to say that their effect in producing additional inflationary pressures cannot be successfully challenged.

Another important point may be noted here. If labour costs rise, without an equivalent increase in production per unit of labour, these increased costs are almost always added to the cost of goods or services, and thus in effect are inflationary. As at end of May the cost of living had increased 82 per cent in the last twelve years. The general index for wages, according to a recent release from the Minister of Labour, stood at 225.5 for April 1951 compared with 100 in 1939. The Finance Minister in his recent budget speech stated "Statistics and charts in the white paper I have tabled indicate that there has been no measurable increase in per capita productivity during the past five years." It would thus appear that the increase in productivity that has taken place, has been due almost wholly to the increase in the labour force at work. If wages rise without a corresponding increase in productivity the effect of this is bound to be inflationary on prices. No solution can be found in prices chasing wages and wages chasing prices in a dizzy spiral that has already reached a dangerous height.

Business corporations large and small and business concerns of individuals seek to protect themselves against rising costs, whether from labour costs or government taxes of various kinds, by putting them into the price the consumer pays.

The extent of this inflation can be measured in another way. In 1950 our gross national production reached almost eighteen billion dollars. Measured in terms of 1939 dollars, it would have been slightly less than ten billions. This indicates how inflation can deceive us and distort the perspective of our economy. There can be no doubt that the inflation that has taken place in our economy in recent years is a very serious thing. A rising inflation in a country's economy is like a deadly unknown virus in the bloodstream of an individual. When inflationary pressures are at work it is of vital importance that Governments, at all levels, practice the most rigid economy and above all avoid going further into debt. There is little point in their urging individual citizens to economize if they do not themselves set a good example.

Your Committee pays a compliment to the Minister of Finance for the warning he gave in his budget speech on the grave dangers that are lurking, unsuspected by the vast majority of Canadians, in these inflationary processes that are at work. The white paper given to Parliament at the time the budget speech was delivered gave a vast amount of very useful information to Parliament. Any member of Parliament, or any other citizen who studies it can get a fair knowledge of the working of the Canadian economy. Difficult as it may be for the people in a democratic society to interest themselves in this matter, a clear understanding of it is vital to the maintenance of our so-called way of life.

In his budget speech the Finance Minister indicated his expectation that our gross national product in the present fiscal year would be about twenty billion dollars. This should give a net national income of at least sixteen billion dollars. The information given your Committee indicates that expenditures of all governments, Federal, Provincial and Municipal this year will be over five billions. In other words, approximately one-third of the net national income of all Canadians will be paid to their governments in taxes. Here the big item of increase is of course the increased defence expenditures, which, in the state of the world today, cannot be avoided. As a result of this heavy load of taxation, combined with the high standard of living we are endeavouring to maintain as a people, the volume of savings out of which new development must take place, as already indicated, is shrinking in an alarming way. The stern necessity rests upon governments and upon individual Canadian citizens in these dangerous days through which we are passing to economize in their expenditures. The people must be encouraged to build up their savings. The proposed pension legislation that everyone appears to be clamouring for, will probably add four hundred million dollars to our total of expenditures, and the greater part of this, for many years to come, will have to be met out of current production. No one can accurately forecast the future, but we do know that the grim depression of the thirty's was set in motion by the collapse of an inflationary boom present in the world for the previous eight or ten years. There is no question that the Canadian economy cannot avoid being profoundly affected by what happens in other countries and especially today in the United States. The uncertainty of what lies ahead is the strongest possible reason to guard against building an edifice of fixed expenditures which, if dark days should come upon us, our economy could not possibly carry.

It is important that the Canadian people realize that inflation, in the sense of its impact upon our daily living and the uncertainty and fear it generates as to what may happen in the future, can have a paralyzing effect not only on our economy, but as well upon the steadiness of thinking in the individual citizen, that is the mainspring of what we describe as our democratic way of life. We need a clear understanding that this danger if allowed to proceed unchecked will bring serious and grave hardships to hundreds of thousands of our people. It thus becomes the duty of every citizen to do, as far as he can, his part in combating it. To that end he must understand that an increase in our savings and an increase in production of goods and services is a vitally important matter.

Most human beings would like to maintain or increase their standard of living by working fewer hours per day, or week or month, and at the same time increase the returns they get for their contribution to our society. But if an individual works fewer hours per week and does not produce the same volume of product that he produced working longer hours per week, and if he gets a higher monthly return for this reduced volume of production, then without any question prices will tend to rise and thus the flames of inflation are fed and grow. And if any section of our community increases the share it gets out of the total productive effort then some other section of the community has of necessity to take less. It is a lamentable fact that the worthy citizens who tried to protect their future needs by saving, by life insurance or annuities, are today the people who are suffering most grievously, for the simple reason that inflation has produced a condition where the income derived from savings or life insurance or annuities buys little more than half of the things it would have bought twelve years ago. Year by year his position has been growing worse. Suggestions have been made that governments can control this by taking full and ample power to direct and supervise the day to day living of the ordinary citizens. Russia is probably the supreme example today of this kind of government control. Here criticism of the government is forbidden. The press can publish only what the government ordains. Freedom of speech, freedom of worship, indeed freedom in any of its aspects, disappears. The state, as represented in the few people who govern it, becomes the all-powerful agent. Initiative, self-reliance and all the other virtues we associate with high character in the individual disappears and the human family in such a state sinks gradually and inexorably to lower and lower levels, spiritually and materially.

These may be regarded as strong words and not appropriate for a report of this kind, but your Committee feels that they are facts that should be pondered and weighed by every citizen. Governments of course have their special responsibilities. They are the ones to whom people look for leadership. The people also have their responsibilities and the most important is that they do not press their governments into unwise policies and unwise expenditures. Indeed, they have another responsibility, and that is through the agencies of the press and public opinion to check and admonish governments when they pursue unwise policies or unwise expenditures.

Your Committee suggests that the Government should keep to the lowest point possible all capital expenditures of every kind excepting those essential to defence, to provide the minimum of housing necessary and those expenditures that are normally directed to increasing the production of goods and services required by the Canadian people. Where expenditures are made on any of these items, including defence spending, efficiency and economy consistent with attaining the end in view should be the watchwords guiding them.

Your Committee would suggest further that the Federal Government as the senior government, should seek the co-operation of the provincial and municipal governments to adopt this same policy. It is true that these governments are largely sovereign in their own spheres of government, but we venture to say that their assistance should be sought and, in as large a measure as possible, secured.

Your Committee concludes its report with this observation. In its judgment no finer body of citizens exist in any country than is to be found in Canada. The proof lies in what they have achieved in the eighty years since the scattered colonies that then existed in what is now Canada were brought together in one confederation. In this eighty odd years half a continent has been developed. The necessary organs of government have been created. Educational opportunities through the development of schools and universities have marched forward with the needs of the people. Our standard of living is as high as in any country in the world, measured by the indices that measure a standard of living. No country in the world provides greater opportunities to the young and daring. The virtues of self-reliance and initiative and sympathy and forbearance, and a sense of justice and fair play have made the Canadian people what they are today. One of the supreme responsibilities of all governments is to exercise wisely their power and influence to maintain and further develop these virtues, for the character of a nation is but the sum total of the character of its citizens.

Your Committee wishes to express its thanks to the witnesses who appeared before it for the assistance they gave the Committee in carrying out its work.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. A. CRERAR,
Chairman.

The Honourable Senator Aseltine, Chairman of the Standing Committee on Divorce, presented their three hundred and seventh and final Report.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

The Standing Committee on Divorce beg leave to make their three hundred and seventh Report as follows:

For the present Session 339 petitions for Bills of Divorce were presented to the Senate and dealt with by the Standing Committee on Divorce, as follows:—

Petitions heard and recommended	295
Petitions heard and rejected	3
Petitions withdrawn	5
Petitions not proceeded with	36
Total	339

Under existing divorce rules a period of 60 days must elapse following the service of the petition before the petitioner can be heard. The 36 petitions which have not been dealt with are in this category, the 60 days period not having elapsed and the petitions therefore not being read for a hearing. They will likely be proceeded with at the next session of Parliament.

Of the petitions recommended during the present session of Parliament, 74 were by husbands and 221 were by wives.

Of the petitions recommended 4 were from petitioners domiciled in the Province of Newfoundland and 291 were from petitioners domiciled in the Province of Quebec.

The Committee held 44 meetings. On 19 days the Committee functioned in two sections.

In 32 cases the Committee recommended that part of the Parliamentary fees be remitted.

The fees paid to Parliament for Bills of Divorce (heard and recommended) during the Session of 1951 amounted to $58,690.00, being approximately $11,500.00 more than in 1950.

Assuming that all Bills of Divorce recommended by the Committee, now in various stages before Parliament, receive Royal Assent, the comparison of dissolutions of marriage granted by Parliament in the last ten Sessions is as follows:—

1943	92
1944	111
1945	179
1946	290
1947	348
1947-48	292
1949, 1st Session	184
1949, 2nd Session	166
1950	240
1951	295

Statistics covering the number of divorces granted in the whole of Canada during the years 1946-1950 (both inclusive), are as follows:

	1946	1947	1948	1949	1950
Canada	7,683	8,199	6,881	5,934	5,208
Prince Edward Island	4	18	49	20	13
Newfoundland					5
Nova Scotia	260	207	78	181	199
New Brunswick	382	236	211	202	194
Quebec	290	348	292	350	234
Ontario	2,639	3,509	3,107	2,396	2,063
Manitoba	636	665	477	411	309
Saskatchewan	505	509	333	289	280
Alberta	962	881	651	594	534
British Columbia	2,005	1,826	1,683	1,491	1,377

The following statement shows a comparison between the number of divorces granted to husbands and wives, respectively, in the years mentioned:

	Husbands	Wives
1946	3,616	4,067
1947	3,539	4,660
1948	2,643	4,238
1949	2,259	3,675
1950	2,023	3,185

Your Committee makes the same recommendation that it made in the 1950 report. It regrets that Parliament has not seen fit to solve the problem of Parliamentary divorce by setting up suitable courts or tribunals before which the numerous cases from Quebec and Newfoundland can be heard. It is to be hoped that something will be done in that regard in the near future.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE

OTTAWA

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR GENERAL

22nd September, 1951.

SIR,—I have the honour to inform you that the Right Honourable Thibaudeau Rinfret, acting as Deputy of His Excellency the Governor General, will proceed to the Senate Chamber at 11.30 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday the 9th October, for the purpose of proroguing the Fourth Session of the Twenty-first Parliament.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. F. DELAUTE,

Assistant Secretary to the Governor General.

The Honourable
The Speaker of the Senate,
Ottawa.

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

The Honourable Senator Robertson laid on the Table:—

Report of The Unemployment Insurance Advisory Committee for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1951.

Copies of The Canada Gazette, Part II, Statutory Orders and Regulations, dated July 11, 1951, July 25, 1951, August 8, 1951, August 22, 1951, September 12, 1951, September 6, 1951 (English and French versions).

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

After a while the Right Honourable Thibaudeau Rinfret, Chief Justice of Canada, in his capacity as Deputy Governor General, having come and being seated at the foot of the Throne—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that:—

“It is the Right Honourable the Deputy Governor General’s desire that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber”.

The House of Commons being come.

The Right Honourable the Deputy Governor General was pleased to close the Fourth Session of the Twenty-first Parliament of Canada, with the following Speech:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

The people of Canada, in common with His Majesty's subjects elsewhere, were deeply concerned that the state of the King's health made a surgical operation necessary, and they rejoice at the rapid progress of the King's recovery.

My Ministers are gratified that the world situation did not require the resumption of the Session before the date originally set when you concluded your deliberations in June. The international situation continues nevertheless to give constant concern to the government.

In Korea, despite prolonged discussions, it has not yet been possible to arrange a cease-fire and hostilities are continuing. To this United Nation's action to defeat aggression, our Canadian forces are making an effective contribution.

Since you adjourned, the state of war with Germany has been terminated by proclamation, and normal diplomatic relations have been established with the Federal Republic of Germany. A treaty of peace has been signed with Japan which you will be asked to approve at the forthcoming session.

While hostilities have been confined to restricted areas, the government is convinced that general peace can be assured only by the continued build-up of the combined strength of the free nations.

To this end, My Ministers welcomed the holding in Ottawa of the most recent meeting of the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Certain of the recommendations of the Council will require to be considered at a future session.

Arrangements are now under discussion with India and Pakistan for certain projects to be financed from the contribution you approved to the Colombo Plan for Co-operative Economic Development in South and South East Asia.

You also made provision for a Canadian contribution to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation programme in Korea.

At the outset of the session, you enacted a measure to vest in the Governor in Council additional powers which might be necessary to ensure adequate defence preparations to meet the emergency arising out of the present international situation.

The legislation to establish the Department of Defence Production has been implemented and the new department is in full operation.

Agreements are being worked out with the provincial governments to implement the measure you enacted to provide for federal contributions for the payment of old age assistance to those in need between sixty-five and seventy years of age. Registration is being proceeded with for universal contributory pensions to persons over seventy years of age to facilitate administration when the necessary legislation has been enacted.

You also enacted a separate measure respecting allowances for blind persons; as well as several measures extending the benefits of the Veterans Charter, and providing for an increase in pensions to certain groups of veterans and their dependents.

You authorized the provision of grants to universities and equivalent institutions of higher learning.

The requirement of the fiat in the case of Petitions of Right has been abolished.

The Indian Act was completely revised and the new legislation is now in operation. The Post Office Act was also extensively revised.

Other measures were enacted respecting grants to Municipalities; the regulation of consumer credit; the grading of dairy products; the construction of a railway from Sherridon to Lynn Lake in the Province of Manitoba; and the bequests of Laurier House and Kingsmere.

Among other measures, you amended the Canadian Citizenship Act; the Supreme Court Act; the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act; the Federal District Commission Act; the Dominion Elections Act; the Judges Act; the Northwest Territories Act; the Yukon Act; the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation Act; the National Housing Act; the Foreign Exchange Control Act; the Canadian Wheat Board Act; the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act; and the Criminal Code.

Your approval was given to agreements between Canada and France, and Canada and Sweden respecting Income Tax and to a convention between Canada and France respecting Succession duties.

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the provision you have made for the public services and for defence obligations on a scale unprecedented in time of peace.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

Our people will, I am sure, continue to pray for the complete restoration of the health of the King and for the blessing of Divine Providence upon our nation and the forces of our own and other nations who are striving to maintain the rule of law in the relations between nations.

The Honourable the Speaker of the Senate then said:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is the will and pleasure of the Honourable the Deputy Governor General that this Parliament be prorogued until a later hour this day, to be here holden; and this Parliament is prorogued accordingly.
